

HASS Rubric: Foundations

Does the organization have an accessible marketing and communications channel?

Beginner

The organization has at least one marketing and communications channel that is accessible to the community. This channel may be a website, social media page, or other. This channel should be accessible and regularly monitored and updated for accuracy.