

HASS Rubric: Foundations

Who maintains the marketing and communications channels?

Beginner

Marketing and communications channels are maintained by an external individual or group. Municipalities may have channels managed by a Public Information Officer (PIO)

Intermediate

Marketing and communications channels are maintained both internally and externally.

Advanced

Marketing and communications channels are maintained internally by the organization.