Do Field Officers have access to municipal shelter information in the field?

Beginner

Not applicable.

Intermediate

Field Officers have access to data through the municipal shelter's information system and software at all times, including in the field. They may look up content including pet and person records and microchip matches but cannot directly make changes to statuses or actions taken at the intermediate level.

Advanced

Field Officers have access to data through the municipal shelter's information system and software at all times, including in the field. Information can be edited in the field to reflect actions taken and resources or support provided.
