

HASS Rubric: Supported Self-Rehoming

Does the organization provide free or low-cost medical care to pets being rehomed?

Beginner

The organization provides information about external programs, services, or organizations that may offer free or low-cost medical care to owned pets. These programs may be utilized by pet owners looking to rehome their pets. The organization provides contact information and the potential program, but does not have an established partnership or referral system in place.

Intermediate

The organization provides free or low-cost medical care assistance to owned pets through direct referrals or established local/national partnerships with the programs that offer these services.

Advanced

The organization directly provides free or low-cost medical care to owned pets. There is a program in place to ensure this program supports owned pets that are in the rehoming process.
